CHICAGO, ILL.
MINN.

It is the duty of the press to be on the side of the innocent and not see any person or thing indulged in. "Swing your partners."

There is a chance for the Anarchists to show their nerve and win some of the wealth they are longing for. Forty thousand farm hands are wanted in the great Northwest.

It is said that in no three cities in the world have greater advances in sanitation been made during the last twenty years than in Bombay, Madras and Calcutta.

A Chicago literary club recently debated the question: "Was the inventor of the barbed-wire fence a Barbarian?" It is safe to say that everybody took sides, and nobody got on the fence.

MONTEAL society is admiring a woman who is so strong that she can lift a house; but we understand that none of the Montreal society young men have proposed to her up to date.

Mr. Gould is anxious to sell his $500,000 yacht for $200,000. It is possible that luxuries are getting too expensive for Mr. Gould? It is to be feared, however, that $500,000 longings will continue to go with $200,000 salaries straight along as of old.

NEW YORK messenger boys are striking for shorter hours. Their hours are pretty long but if there is any kick coming it ought to be from the man who sends the message, or the one who is waiting for it.

The Emperor of Annam, twelve years of age, smokes cigarettes inveterately. When a boy gets to be both a king and a cigarette fiend at that early age there isn't much hope for him.

A Memphis man has just been granted a patent for a car window dash and cinder protector which can be carried in the pocket or value of every passenger, and which is in position to serve its purpose as desired.

From eastern Asia comes a plant the flowers of which contain a quantity of juice that rapidly turns black or deep purple on exposure to air. It is used by Chinese ladies for dyeing their hair and eyebrows, and is Japan for blacking shoes.

CYRUS W. FIELD's estate figures up $630,000, notwithstanding the fact that a few days before his death he declared himself as poor as he was the moment he was born. He had evidently taken a correct inventory of the sum spared him by his thievish son.

The inventor of the telephone says the expense of the telephone must increase with the improvements of the instrument. The improvement of the "Hello" and "What's that?" and "You must speak louder," will put the cost of the instrument clear out of sight.

The pageant of Lady Godiva has been done again in England, the first time in five years. The title role was taken by an actress who were very little indeed, there being no evidence that we find immediately available to show that she was "clothed on" as the first performer of the feat is said to have been by Tennyson.

GRAND old Missouri comes forward with a fresh claim to distinction. Columbia, in that state, has a citizen who was "born the same straw hat and linen dusters for forty years." If that's what we mean by old, our native modesty won't allow us to inquire into the extent of his summer wardrobe.

A curious and beautiful superstition prevails among the Armenians that when anyone is seriously ill the sickroom is filled with angels who are sent to watch over the patient. For this reason the room is beautifully decorated and furnished with flowers, sweets, dried fruits and cakes, and each visitor on entering strikes a chord on a musical instrument which hangs at the head of the sickbed.

EARL SPENCER's library of 50,000 volumes, the finest private collection of books in the world, has been purchased by an Englishman and will be put in a suitable building to have the general public have free access. This action is worthy of imitation on this side where many of the world's treasures are locked up where only a privileged few can ever reap any benefit from them.

The ten penny as applied to nails is generally supposed to have been derived from pound. It originally meant so many pounds to the thousand, and is, six-penny meant six pounds of nails to the thousand nails. The thousand was always understood, and six pound, ten pound, etc., were gradually shortened until the present term penny has entirely taken the place of pound.

In days of old when much distinction was had in meeting-houses the spelling of our word was pue. In French it was puy, in Spanish it was puy, a bench in Latin it was podium, a balcony or elevated place next to the arena, where the emperor sat, and in Greek it was pous, the foot—and in all cases where the feet of the worshiper rested—a raised place on the floor of the church where one might sit or might stand or might kneel. In puritan meeting-houses the choice pews were round about the walls, one step up, and the do's seats near the pulpit two steps up and those of the ruling elders one step higher yet. In these later days the best pews are in the center of the church—the wall pews feel "as price

Geo. A. Keene, of East Grand Forks, has been in the city this week on business and renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Keene has sold his drug store in the former place and may decide to remove back to Brainerd in the near future.

C. E. Dickenson returned last evening from his trip to the eastern markets where he went about a month ago in the interest of Campbell & Smith. He was joined at Detroit by his mother who returned with him and will visit in Brainerd during the next month.

The meeting of the temperance people was held in the Congregational church on Tuesday evening and was well attended. A meeting will be held on Saturday for the purpose of issuing a call for a mass meeting of the citizens. Resolutions favoring the enforcement of the state laws in regard to the liquor traffic were adopted.

Chamber's hotel at Gull lake will be formally opened to the public on Friday next, Aug. 26, by a grand ball and supper, and no one receiving an invitation should fail to be present as the occasion will be a very pleasant one and strictly first-class. The hotel has been thoroughly remodeled and put in prime condition throughout, and the proprietor will spare no pains to please his guests.

It is probable that within two weeks the resignation of every Wisconsin Central and Northern Pacific official will be asked, says the Minneapolis Journal. The object to be obtained by this is economy in operation by extending the jurisdiction of all Northern Pacific officials to corresponding duties of the deposed officials and effecting a saving of about $50,000 a year.

Fire on Monday morning at the corner of Ivy and Eighth streets in a residence owned by Wm. Dressell and occupied by Wm. Duthie called the department out and but for their timely arrival would have ruined the house. When Mr. Duthie arose to light his kitchen fire he noticed the room was filled with smoke and he immediately gave the alarm but it was some time before the blaze could be located and was finally found under the cellar stairs. The greatest damage was done by smoke and water. There was an insurance on the house and contents.

Ten Hours a Day's Work.

The men who went out of J. J. Howe & Co.'s mills last Friday morning have been successful in their strike and on Wednesday morning the mills started up all the old employees returning to their work. When the committee first met Mr. Howe he told them it would be impossible to reduce the number of hours as orders were crowding and it was desired to get as much lumber out this season as possible, and the men stopped work as stated in our last issue. The workmen hold several meetings at Gardner's hall which were conducted in a very orderly and business like manner. Mr. Howe finally proposed to the men that they go to work and his firm would pay them for twelve hours, the work to be eleven hours, but as stated by the committee the strike was not for a raise in wages, but for a ten-hour day and the men refused to accept the proposition. On Tuesday the ten-hour proposition was accepted with the understanding that the men were to work a quarter of a day extra, to be paid for on the ten-hour basis, three days out of the week. Everybody is satisfied with the outcome and especially with the manner in which the committee managed the strike.

Will Pave the Streets.

It seems that the efforts of the Dispatch some time ago in agitating the matter of paving our business streets is about to bear fruit, as the council at its meeting on Monday evening last authorized the city clerk to advertise for bids to pave about two blocks on 6th street, the bids to be opened the first Monday in September. The paving is to be cedar block with stone curbing. Although the amount of paving authorized is not as extensive as our citizens desire, still it is sufficient to indicate that the council is in earnest in the matter. After this much is finished and in use the benefits and convenience derived therefrom, will, we have no doubt, be so great and so manifest, that all our principal business streets will next summer be treated in like manner.

It is but just to remark in this connection, that the present council is the best most enterprising and progressive body the city has ever had. They have instituted reforms in city affairs in more directions than one, and we hope those members who have been the life of the present council will consent to occupy the positions next term. Members who work for the interests of the city and not for themselves have long been a necessity in Brainerd's council, and now that we have them, it is a good scheme to retain them in their present position.

We learn since the above was put in type that the proceedings of the council in the pavement matter was not in regular form, and a special meeting of the council has been called for to-night to correct the matter.

Scalded to Death.

A most distressing accident occurred in this city last Saturday. A three-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph White, who live on Rosewood street near Howe's mill, was playing with other children in a room where the mother had left a pail of boiling water preparatory to scrubbing the floor. She stepped out of the room for a moment, and while absent the child was accidentally pushed over into the pail in such a manner that it was terribly scalded around the hips and stomach. A physician was called, but the child was too badly burned for medical aid to be of service and died the next day.

The Times readers will remember that last January there was an item in its columns relative to the supposed death of Herman L. Saturday the young man in question was a caller at the office and after reading the letter we published last January as to his death, stated that he did not know the author of the same, and that he had put forth every effort to find him, as had the lumber camp in which the man whose name was signed to the letter worked. For the past eight months Herman has been in the employ of the Northern Mill Lumber company, and only came in from his work in the woods on Wednesday last.—Creston Times.

The Berger-Dainty Company.

The above named company will be here on Friday evening, Aug. 19, to give the people of Brainerd a rich treat of delightful music, vocal and instrumental, and splendid readings, by artists in these lines of the highest order and widest renown.

Miss Berger, the cornetist, is the "star" of the famous Berger family. Her name is a household word from Maine to California, as well as in many countries in Europe, London, China, India, Japan, Australia, and elsewhere, conceded by critics to be without a rival.

Master Leon Marx, the wonderful boy violinist with an artist soul, a mechanical proficiency. His unquenchable perseverance places him almost side by side with the great masters of the violin in the world. His delicacy of shading combined with fire and nerve carries irresistibly his audience on the wave of enthusiastic appreciation. His violin is a genuine cermona of 1772 valued at $1,000.

Laura Dainty, the queen of entertainers has an admirable mimetic power, a vivacious manner, exquisite and beautiful enunciation, straight-forward delivery, and is received with great enthusiasm and compelled to extend her program by encores. She is unquestionably the best of readers, moving crowded audiences to laughter or to tears at will. "I know of no public reader who gives such pleasure, who seems to me to have the same remarkable dramatic power."—Edward Everett Hale. "Laura Dainty came to Boston, took us by surprise, captured us by her charming artless art and went away a friend who we delight to honor."—Wendell Phillips.

Read carefully the circulars, remember the date and be sure to go and you will have a rich treat.

TO USE

Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the valuable compound of which are imported, wholesale, by the J. C. Ayer Co. from the regions where these articles are richest in medicinal properties.

"It is a wonder to me that any other than Ayer's Sarsaparilla has a show in the market. If people consider their health, interest, they would never use any other; for it is not only the best, but, on account of its concentrated strength and purity, it is the most economical."—James F. Duffy, Druggist, No. 1, Almont, Druggist, Liberty, Va.

Dr. A. L. Almont, Druggist, Liberty, Va., writes: "Leading physicians in this city prescribe Ayer's Sarsaparilla."

Sarsaparilla. I have sold it for eighteen years, and have the highest regard for its healing qualities."

"Although the formula is known to the trade, there can be no successful imitation of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Without having the enormous facilities of J. C. Ayer Co., it is impossible for other parties to put together such valuable ingredients, at the low cost of Ayer's."

THE DOLLAR GROWS

The American Economist has collected from the books of the retail stores of the country the prices at which the chief manufactured necessities have sold in various parts of the country, and have averaged the results. The outcome is the average purchase prices actually paid by the consumers in the various periods named. The three dates here represented are 1857, the anti-bulwark tariff period; October, 1889, exactly one year before the passage of the McKinley tariff, and before its discussion and the campaign of 1890 had affected prices; and July, 1892, nearly two years after the bill's passage. The result shows a radical reduction on all the important manufactured necessities:

THE DULUTH EVENING HERALD, an independent-for-revenue-only newspaper, has come out for Major Baldwin for congress, at how much a come out isn't generally known.

The state auditor has notified the commissioners of Starns county that their action in putting on the assessment books mortgages without notice to the holders is probably illegal.

The democratic Times is mad because the republican Journal-Press is enlightening the people of Starns county on the tariff issues, and will seek to stop the distribution of circular supplements through the mails.

The St. Cloud Journal-Press has been sold to Alvah Eastman, formerly of the Anoka Herald, and that gentleman will establish an evening edition. The newspaper men of Minnesota will welcome Mr. Eastman's return to the state with open arms.

The democrats have made a bid for the Farmer's Alliance vote in this district by leaving a place on their legislative ticket vacant to be filled later on by some Alliance man. According to all reports the nominee will not come from Mille Lacs county.

The democrats will have more difficulty in electing their legislative ticket this year than they did two years ago from the fact that the republicans propose to send a solid delegation to St. Paul and work untidily for that end. There is no factional fight on and the republican legislative ticket will receive the full party vote, in Crow Wing county at least.

Suppose, for the sake of argument, that the tariff is a tax. What does it amount to in the economies of the labor in comparison with the reduction by free trade of his wages to the foreign standard, or the loss of his employment and wages by filling our markets with alleged "cheap" foreign manufactures? He would surely be immensely the loser. But all experience shows that the tariff for protection is not a tax in the long run. It is the tariff for revenue that is a tax—Northfield News.

A WORKINGMAN in the Boston Journal makes comparisons between the purchasing power of his wages in 1872, before the "demonization of silver," and in 1892:

His day's work would purchase of flour in 1872 one-quarter of a barrel; 1892, one-half of a barrel; salt pork, in 1872, 17 pounds; 1892, 34 pounds; sugar, in 1872, 22 pounds; in 1892, 55 pounds; lard, in 1872, 20 pounds; 1892, 31 pounds; cheese, in 1872, 17 pounds; 1892, 33 pounds; beans, in 1872, 22 quarts; 1892, 34 quarts; prairie, in 1872, 20 yards; in 1892, 45 yards; cotton cloth, in 1872, 24 yards; 1892, 35 yards; coal, in 1872, one-fifth of a ton; 1892, one-half of a ton.

His wages have doubled in the purchasing power of most goods, and increased two and one-half times in the purchase of sugar and coal. Said workingman does not take much stock in the Democratic "starvation wages" stuff.

Historic War Record.

Aldis Stevenson's "war record" is pursuing him like a very Nemesis. Now comes a resident of Wabash, Ind., an old and respected farmer, and makes affidavit to the fact that Stevenson actually bore arms against the Federal government, inasmuch as he peddled and distributed firearms for the purpose of enabling his brother copperheads to resist the draft. Of course Aldis denies the truth of this statement, and under the circumstances he could do nothing else—Duluth Tribune.

A Crop Estimate.

The Minneapolis Journal publishes an estimate of the spring wheat crop in Minnesota and the Dakotas. After a careful personal inspection of the field it places the crop for the three states at 103,000,000 bushels against 100,000,000 last year. It is very little below an average crop. Minnesota will produce 41,700,000 bushels, North Dakota 28,500,000, South Dakota 42,000,000. C. A. Pillsbury puts the yield at 110,000,000.

Want it changed.

Sportsmen of all over the state will probably favor a change in the close season on prairie chickens, by the legislature next winter. The date is now fixed, September 1st, is too late by fifteen days. In any ordinary season birds are fully able to care for themselves by the 15th of August, and to fix any later date at which they may be hunted, is to tempt many who in other respects are law-abiding citizens, to ignore statutes. August 15th is plenty late enough.

Sunflowers Utilized.

An exchange says that in the czar's dominion 750,000 acres are devoted to the cultivation of the sunflower, and that every part of the plant is utilized. From the seed an oil is pressed that is used in cooking, for salads and various domestic purposes, as olive oil is in other countries. The oleo is valuable for feeding cattle, and the dry stalks make an excellent fuel. The seeds of the larger varieties are used to an enormous extent by the people, very much as peanuts are eaten with us, but without being roasted. They are certainly excellent in flavor as well as rich and nutritious.—News.

Somebody Sets a Trap in every track of good luck.

KRAUSE'S GERMAN OIL, of much repute in Germany where it has been in use for many years, is the property of the Norman Lith in the United States. Nervous competitors without any brains or enterprise of there own have set a trap for the public, and are offering vile and worthless imitations, and the public are cautioned against buying this medicine unless the label plainly reads KRAUSE'S GERMAN OIL. Be sure you get the genuine and don't get taken in by a counterfeit.

THE ROBBER'S DRAWN PISTOL

It doesn't Look Pretty, and Brave Men Succeed.

A group of men were loitering in the lounge of a San Francisco hotel the other corner, says a writer in the San Francisco Examiner. Each had his paper open at the page describing the robbery that started Berkeley. "I cannot help having admiration for such bold thieves," said a very respectable looking member of the gathering. "Not," he added, "that I approve stealing in any form, but if one is bound to do it at the point of a pistol that is a different matter. I have seen the robber's pistol in the street and do not mind it. It is a very respectable looking member of the gathering. Mr. Gould is anxious to sell his $500,000 yacht for $200,000. It is possible that loxaries are getting too expensive for Mr. Gould? It is to be feared, however, that $500,000 longings will continue to go with $2000 salaries straight along as of old.

The pageant of Lady Godiva has been done again in England, the first time in five years. The title role was taken by an actress who were very like indeed, there being no evidence that we find immediately available to show that she was "clothed on" as the first performer of the feat is said to have been by Tennyson.

Grand old Missouri comes forward with a fresh claim to distinction, Columbia, in that state, has a citizen who has "worn the same straw hat and linen duster for forty years." If that's what he wears in winter our native modesty won't allow us to inquire into the condition of his summer wardrobe.

A curious and beautiful superstition prevails among the Armenians that when anyone is seriously ill the sickroom is filled with angels who are sent to watch over the patient. For this reason the room is beautifully draped and furnished with flowers, sweets, dried fruits and cakes, and each visitor on entering strikes a chord on a musical instrument which hangs at the head of the sickbed.

Earl Spencer's library of 50,000 volumes, the finest private collection of books in the world, has been purchased by an Englishman and will be put in a suitable building to which the general public shall have free access. This action is worthy of imitation on this side where many of the world's treasures are locked up where only a privileged few can ever reap any benefit from them.

Ten penny as applied to nails is generally supposed to have been derived from pound. It originally meant so many pounds to the thousand, that is, six-penny meant six pounds of nails to the thousand nails. Ten thousand was always under, ten and six pound, ten pound, etc., were gradually shortened until the present term penny has entirely taken the place of pound.

Mr. President, however hot the conflict may be which the American people are to engage in, in making up the issues everything is plain sailing. The Presidential candidate of the Democratic party and its platform are all of a piece. Let no Democratic Senator here after this recital of the deliberate act of his party at Chicago, claim that the difference of labor here and abroad and the establishment of American industries based upon the present system are in any way recognized by his side in this conflict.

As stated by the advocates of the tariff-for-revenue-only plank, which was voted in by the convention, all other legislation is not only robbery, but is unconstitutional in itself. The whole system, under which a prosperity unexampled in history has been shown to the world, is a make-up of lawlessness and fraud. Every laboring man, with individual protection to his labor struck out, is to be put upon the basis of underpaid and foreign pauper labor.

Hundreds of great industries established in the United States are notified that their downfall approaches. The protective system, with the legislation that has grown out of it, which in the last three years, and especially in the last year, has produced such astonishing results in our trade and commerce is to go by the board.

Mr. President, the results of a Republican administration under a Republican policy, I give certain official figures. The excess of our reports over imports in the three years ending March 31, 1889, was only $28,500,307, or a yearly average excess of $9,500,769. For three years ending March 31, 1889, the excess of our exports over imports was only $28,500,307, showing a balance of trade during the three years of President Harrison's administration of more than $28,500,307 in excess of our imports.

But the condition of trade and the balance in our favor is still more striking. The light and heavy goods given for the last year ending April 30, 1892, were as follows:

During the twelve months ending April 30, 1892, the excess of our exports over imports was $28,500,307, showing a balance of trade during the three years of President Harrison's administration of more than $28,500,307 in excess of our imports.

Fire on Monday morning at the corner of Ivy and Eighth streets in a residence owned by Wm. Dressell and occupied by Wm. Duthe called the department out and but for their timely arrival would have ruined the house. When Mr. Duthe arose to light his kitchen fire he noticed the room was filled with smoke and he immediately gave the alarm but it was some time before the blaze could be located and was finally found under the cellar stairs. The greatest damage was done by smoke and water. There was an insurance on the house and contents.

Ten Hours a Day's Work.

The men who went out of J. J. Howe & Co.'s mills last Friday morning have been successful in their strike and on Wednesday morning the mills started up all the old employees returning to their work. When the committee first met Mr. Howe he told them it would be impossible to reduce the number of hours as orders were crowding and it was desired to get as much lumber out this season as possible, and the men stopped work as stated in our last issue. The workmen held several meetings at Gardner's hall which were conducted in a very orderly and business like manner. Mr. Howe finally proposed to the men that they go to work and his firm would pay them for twelve hours, the work to be eleven hours, but as stated by the committee the strike was not for a raise in wages, but for a ten-hour day and the men refused to accept the proposition. On Tuesday the ten-hour proposition was accepted with the understanding that the men were to work a quarter of a day extra, to be paid for on the ten-hour basis, three days out of the week. Everybody is satisfied with the outcome and especially with the manner in which the committee managed the strike.

Will Pave the Streets.

It seems that the efforts of the Dispatch some time ago in agitating the matter of paving our business streets is about to bear fruit, as the council at its meeting on Monday evening last authorized the city clerk to advertise for bids to pave about two blocks on 6th street, the bids to be opened the first Monday in September. The paving is to be cedar block with stone curbing. Although the amount of paving authorized is not as extensive as our citizens desire, still it is sufficient to indicate that the council is in earnest in the matter. After this much is finished and in the benefits and conveniences derived therefrom, will, we have no doubt, be so great and so manifest, that all our principal business streets will next summer be treated in like manner.

It is but just to remark in this connection, that the present council is the best, most enterprising and progressive body the city has ever had. They have instituted reforms in city affairs in more directions than one, and we hope those members who have been the life of the present council will consent to occupy the positions next term. Members who work for the interests of the city and not for themselves have long been a necessity in Brainerd's council, and now that we have them, it is a good scheme to retain them in their present position.

We learn since the above was put in type that the proceedings of the council in the pavement matter was not in regular form, and a special meeting of the council has been called for to-night to correct the matter.

Scalded to Death.

A most distressing accident occurred in this city last Saturday. A three-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph White, who live on Rosewood street near Howe's mill, was playing with other children in a room where the mother had left a pail of boiling water preparatory to scrubbing the floor. She stepped out of the room for a moment, and while absent the child was accidentally pushed over into the pail in such a manner that it was terribly scalded around the hips and stomach. A physician was called, but the child was too badly burned for medical aid to be of service and died the next day.

Read His Own Obituary.

The Times readers will remember that last January there was an item in its columns relative to the supposed death of Herman L. Horn, said to have taken place near Brainerd, and shortly after a denial from the relatives of the young man. Saturday the young man in question was a caller at the office and after reading the letter we published last January as to his death, stated that he did not know the author of the same, and that he had put forth every effort to find him, as had the lumber camp in which the man whose name was signed to the letter worked. For the past eight months Herman has been in the employ of the Northern Mill Lumber company, and only came in from his work in the woods on Wednesday last.—Crookston Times.

The treasurer's report showed the finance in good condition. Officers for the ensuing year were elected. Mrs. C. J. Voon, who has faithfully and efficiently served six consecutive years as president, refused to accept the unanimous vote given her for re-election. Mrs. W. M. Wright was then elected president. Mrs. Ware and Mrs. L. A. Conant were elected vice-presidents. Mrs. Alice D. White was chosen secretary by the president, and Mrs. L. A. Conant was re-elected treasurer. Mrs. B. A.
